Research Methodology

Foreword

This book is designed to introduce students to the process of scientific research in the social sciences, nature sciences, linguistic, education, philosophy, and related disciplines. This book is based on my research experiences and lecture materials developed over a decade of teaching the class on Research Methods at Lomonosov Moscow State University (Russia), Guangxy University For Nationalities (PR China), And Universitas Nasional (Indonesia). The target audience for this book includes students, junior researchers, and professors teaching courses on research methods, although senior researchers can also use this book as a handy and compact reference.

I am grateful to all those who have helped me directly and/or indirectly in preparing this revised edition. I firmly believe that there is always scope for improvement and accordingly I shall look forward to received suggestions, (which shall be thankfully acknowledged) for further enriching the quality of the text.

Hopefully this book can be a good way to carry out research activities, build scientific insight, and provide the greatest benefit to the whole world.
