

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

This chapter includes the conclusions and recommendations drawn by the researchers based on the insights and discussions, with some suggestions for the reader:

5.1 Conclusion

Based on the results and discussion, the researcher concluded that the formation of a word sometimes consists of two or more words that are combined and form a new meaning. Thus, from understanding the syntactic process of forming new words can help improve vocabulary, especially in learning a foreign language like English. Fully identify three classes of compound words based on Bauer's theory. Appearing in the movie black mirror (nosedive), these are compound nouns, compound verbs and compound adjectives. The researcher found 36 of compound nouns formed by : noun+noun, preposition+noun, noun+noun, verb+adjective, verb+adverb, Adjective+noun, noun+noun, Adjective+noun, adjective+noun, noun+noun, noun+noun . The researcher found 9 of Compound verb formed through: adjective+adverb, adjective+Adverb, verb+adverb, verb+preposition. The researcher found 5 of Compound adjective formed through: adjective+numeral, noun+verb, adjective+verb, adjective+noun, noun+verb

Researchers found four sentence parts based on Langan's theory, function as object, adverb, subject, and predicate. Each of them is given 2 examples, but the adverb example is only given 1 example because in the dialog of this film, the adverb example is quite rare.

The researcher also examined the translation methods used in the movie's dialog using Newmark's theory. The researcher analyzed 20 translation techniques and out of 50 existing data and the researcher found 3 communicative translation, 5 faithful translation, 3 adaptation translation, 4 free translation, 2 idiomatic translation, 2 word for word translation. Form by: communicative translation, faithful translation, free translation, faithful translation, communicative translation, adaptation translation, communicative translation, free translation, free translation, faithful translation, free translation, faithful translation, idiomatic translation, faithful translation, faithful translation, adaptation translation, word for word translation, adaptation translation, idiomatic translation, word for word translation

5.2 Suggestion

Based on the above conclusions, the researchers make the following suggestions:

1. The researcher hope that through this work, readers can have a new understanding of compound analysis, especially the types of compound words. Readers can also learn how to analyze the types and functions of compound words. and the translation method used in the dialog.

2. The researcher suggest that future researchers conducting similar studies on compound words may use these Similar compound word studies can be used not only with other objects in the film. Additionally, future researcher could extract data from dialogue interactions in novels, short stories, and literature, novels, short stories and other literary works.
